Finish stories	1st draft of stories due	Interview with Jazari
They should finish writing their stories so we can edit them tomorrow.	We will exchange stories and begin proofreading them based on AP Style standards and if the articles have the 5 W's and H. We will first do a couple together, then they will partner up and do it that way. By the end of the class period, all articles should have received feedback for editing.	We will have a live interview with Jazari Kual, an independent journalist from Lincoln, and he will share some tips and aspects of his work that has been learned through his experiences.
Objectives Students will be able to: • draft original stories that they were assigned.	Objectives Students will be able to: • analyze AP style used in articles to give feedback to fellow classmates about their writing. • analyze the effectiveness of the articles and if they have used the 5 W's and H.	Objectives Students will be able to: • use interviewing strategies to conduct a professional interview. • use listening skills to engage in reciprocal communication.

Editing and Revising	Release Issue & Reflect
Students will spend the class period editing and revising their articles. If needed, we will finish the movie we started a week ago as absences have made it so that we haven't been able to finish it.	We will approve the final version of the Tradition Times and send it to Mr. Patrick and/or Mrs. Dewitt to put onto our school website. We will also let Mrs. Fierechs know that it is being published so she can let people know from our facebook. We will then reflect on the articles and the work we did. If there is time, we will discuss the articles we would like to see in the next paper.
Objectives Students will be able to: edit and revise their own articles and prepare it for submission.	Objectives Students will be able to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> publish the second edition of the Tradition Times. reflect on the issue and the stories published.
